

AUBERGE DES
Glacis
★★★

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Tourism Québec Grand Prize National Gala L'AUBERGE DES GLACIS WINS BRONZE

ST-EUGÈNE-DE-L'ISLET, Friday, May 23th 2008.

Auberge des Glacis was recognized as one of the top three ranking accommodations in the province at the Tourism Québec Grand Prize National Gala which was held in Montreal on Friday May 9th.

L' Auberge des Glacis, situated in St-Eugène-de-L'Islet in the Chaudière-Appalaches region won bronze in lodging hotellery category- 1 to 3 star classification.

Left, Mr. Paul Caccia (Quebec Tourism and Hotel Institute)

First prize for two former journalists that became innkeepers

This prize confirms that the new owners of this establishment have been very successful in their choice to change careers from journalism to tourism. Before buying Auberge des Glacis in the Summer 2006, Nancy Lemieux and André Anglehart had made their mark in journalism during many years in Abitibi-Témiscamingue region (Radio-Canada and Radio Nord Communications).

Nancy and André have strived to maintain the prestige of Auberge des Glacis as established by their predecessors. More over, they have increased their clientele.

Olivier Raffestin : a marvellous chef in Chaudière-Appalaches

Right from the start, Nancy and André had a challenge to overcome. They needed to find a replacement for the former chef-owner, Pierre Watters. They found the perfect successor in their sous-chef Olivier Raffestin who had been employed at the Auberge since 2000. His image as a chef is reflected in his bold but subtle cuisine.

Thanks to staff, local producers and discerning clients

Our employees take great pride in being acknowledged by this Grand Prize Award. This reinforces even more the great reputation of this establishment. This honour is also attributable to their local producers. Many thanks must go to their regularly discerning clientele who are their best ambassadors.

Source :

Nancy Lemieux et André Anglehart

(418) 247-7486 sans frais : 1-877-245-2247

www.aubergedesglacis.com / info@aubergedesglacis.com